Los Andes is comprised of coffee from several farms in the Santa Ilamatepec mountain range. This coffee is meticulously curated by our friends at J Hill y Cia. and Beneficio Las Tres Puertas. By bringing the best most consistent coffee of the region together this blend assures a balanced clean cup year after year.

Ilamatepec, or the Santa Ana Volcano as it is commonly known is a famed coffee growing region in El Salvador. The volcano itself rises to 2,318 meters above sea level. Elevation combined with rich volcanic soils make the region an ideal place for coffee cultivation.
